Land acquisition using stewardship moneys

Current law authorizes the state to incur public debt by issuing bonds for certain conservation activities under the stewardship program, which DNR administers. The state may authorize bonds to acquire state land or easements that are under the jurisdiction of DNR for areas such as state forests and state parks and the Lower Wisconsin State Riverway. Also, currently under the stewardship program, DNR may issue bonds to award grants or state aid to certain governmental units and to nonprofit conservation organizations in order to acquire lands, easements, or development rights.

This bill limits acquisitions of land, easements, and and other rights or interests in land under the stewardship program to only acquisitions of land in fee simply and acquisitions of certain easements for forestry purposes (forestry easements), easements for state trails or the ice age trail, and easements that are necessary to provide access to lands or waters that are required to be open to the public for which there is no public access or limited public access. An acquisition of land in fee simple is one where all the rights in the land land are acquired as opposed to the acquisition of just an easement or development rights. Under the bill, an easement acquired for a state trail, for the ice age trail, or to provide access to land or a body of water may not be more than five acres in size.

The bill requires a city, village, town, or county to adopt a nonbinding resolution that either supports or opposes a proposed acquisition of land or easement and requires DNR to consider the resolution in determining whether to approve the acquisition. This requirement does not apply to forestry easements.

Under current law, lands and certain easements on lands, acquired under the stewardship program must be open to the public for nature-based outdoor activities such as hunting, fishing, hiking, and cross-country skiing unless the DNR board determines that the land may be closed to protect public safety or a unique animal or plant community or to accommodate usership patterns such as conflicts between these types of activities (reasons for prohibiting public access). This bill eliminates the accommodation of usership patterns as a reason for prohibiting public access with respect to lands, or easements on lands, that are not acquired for a state trail or the ice age trail and that are acquired after the bill becomes law.

Joint finance review of stewardship acquisitions

Under current law, if a land acquisition or development project under the stewardship program costs more than $750,000, DNR cannot obligate money from the stewardship fund for that activity until DNR gives written notice of the proposed activity to JCF. JCF may schedule a meeting to review the proposal only if at least five members of JCF, one of whom is a cochairperson, object in writing to the proposed activity. If the cochairpersons of JCF do not notify DNR within 14 working days after the date of DNR's notification that JCF has scheduled a meeting to review the proposed activity, DNR can obligate the money. If the cochairpersons notify DNR that JCF has scheduled a meeting to review the proposed activity, DNR can obligate the money only if JCF approves the proposed activity or if JCF fails to hold the meeting within a specific number of working days. This bill decreases the $750,000 threshold amount to $250,000.

Aid in lieu of taxes for DNR lands

Under current law, land that DNR purchases is not subject to property taxes. Instead, DNR makes annual payments to municipalities for each parcel of land that the DNR has purchased in those municipalities. The payment amount is determined, generally, by multiplying the parcel's estimated value by the aggregate net general property tax rate that would apply to the parcel if it were subject to property taxes. This bill eliminates those payments for land purchased after the bill's effective date.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

~~Land acquisition using stewardship moneys~~

Current law authorizes the state to incur public debt by issuing bonds for certain conservation activities under the stewardship program, which DNR administers. The state may authorize bonds to acquire state land or easements that are under the jurisdiction of DNR for areas such as state forests and state parks and the Lower Wisconsin State Riverway. Also, currently under the stewardship program, DNR may issue bonds to award grants or state aid to certain governmental units and to nonprofit conservation organizations in order to acquire lands, easements, or development rights.

This bill limits acquisitions of land, easements, and and other rights or interests in land under the stewardship program to only acquisitions of land in fee simple and acquisitions of certain easements for forestry purposes (forestry easements), easements for state trails or the ice age trail, and easements that are necessary to provide access to lands or waters that are required to be open to the public for which there is no public access or limited public access. An acquisition of land in fee simple is one where all the rights in the land land are acquired as opposed to the acquisition of just an easement or development rights. Under the bill, an easement acquired for a state trail, for the ice age trail, or to provide access to land or a body of water may not be more than five acres in size.

The bill requires a city, village, town, or county to adopt a nonbinding resolution that either supports or opposes a proposed acquisition of land or easement and requires DNR to consider the resolution in determining whether to approve the acquisition. This requirement does not apply to forestry easements.

Under current law, lands and certain easements on lands, acquired under the stewardship program must be open to the public for nature-based outdoor activities such as hunting, fishing, hiking, and cross-country skiing unless the DNR board determines that the land may be closed to protect public safety or a unique animal or plant community or to accommodate usership patterns such as conflicts between these types of activities (reasons for prohibiting public access). This bill eliminates the accommodation of usership patterns as a reason for prohibiting public access with respect to lands, or easements on lands, that are not acquired for a state trail or the ice age trail and that are acquired after the bill becomes law.

~~Joint finance review of stewardship acquisitions~~

Under current law, if a land acquisition or development project under the stewardship program costs more than $750,000, DNR cannot obligate money from the stewardship fund for that activity until DNR gives written notice of the proposed activity to JCF. JCF may schedule a meeting to review the proposal only if at least five members of JCF, one of whom is a cochairperson, object in writing to the proposed activity. If the cochairpersons of JCF do not notify DNR within 14 working days after the date of DNR's notification that JCF has scheduled a meeting to review the proposed activity, DNR can obligate the money. If the cochairpersons notify DNR that JCF has scheduled a meeting to review the proposed activity, DNR can obligate the money only if JCF approves the proposed activity or if JCF fails to hold the meeting within a specific number of working days. This bill decreases the $750,000 threshold amount to $250,000.

~~Aid in lieu of taxes for DNR lands~~

Under current law, land that DNR purchases is not subject to property taxes. Instead, DNR makes annual payments to municipalities for each parcel of land that the DNR has purchased in those municipalities. The payment amount is determined, generally, by multiplying the parcel's estimated value by the aggregate net general property tax rate that would apply to the parcel if it were subject to property taxes. This bill eliminates those payments for land purchased after the bill's effective date.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

NATURAL RESOURCES

OTHER NATURAL RESOURCES

Under current law, if DNR receives funds from the sale of atlases, those funds are credited to an appropriation account in the conservation fund to be used for expenses associated with the maintenance of facilities and the production of maps and other customer services. This bill repeals that appropriation. 1/VS
ANL

Current law also provides that, if DNR receives gifts and contributions under the Wisconsin natural areas heritage program or moneys from the sale of certain state-owned lands, those amounts are credited to an appropriation account in the general fund to be used for natural heritage and natural area land acquisition activities and for administration of the natural areas inventory program. This bill repeals that appropriation and provides instead that the amounts be credited to an appropriation account in the conservation fund and used for the same purposes specified in the repealed appropriation.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

NATURAL RESOURCES

Current law authorizes the state to incur public debt by issuing bonds for certain conservation activities under the stewardship program, which DNR administers. The state may authorize bonds to acquire state land or easements that are under the jurisdiction of DNR for areas such as state forests and state parks and the Lower Wisconsin State Riverway. Also, currently under the stewardship program, DNR may issue bonds to award grants or state aid to certain governmental units and to nonprofit conservation organizations in order to acquire lands, easements, or development rights.

This bill limits acquisitions of land, easements, and other rights or interests in land under the stewardship program to only acquisitions of land in fee simple and acquisitions of certain easements for forestry purposes (forestry easements), easements for state trails or the ice age trail, and easements that are necessary to provide access to lands or waters that are required to be open to the public for which there is no public access or limited public access. An acquisition of land in fee simple is one where all the rights in the land are acquired as opposed to the acquisition of just an easement or development rights. Under the bill, an easement acquired for a state trail, for the ice age trail, or to provide access to land or a body of water may not be more than five acres in size.

The bill requires a city, village, town, or county to adopt a nonbinding resolution that either supports or opposes a proposed acquisition of land or easement and requires DNR to consider the resolution in determining whether to approve the acquisition. This requirement does not apply to forestry easements.

Under current law, lands and certain easements on lands, acquired under the stewardship program must be open to the public for nature-based outdoor activities such as hunting, fishing, hiking, and cross-country skiing unless the DNR board determines that the land may be closed to protect public safety or a unique animal or plant community or to accommodate usership patterns such as conflicts between these types of activities (reasons for prohibiting public access). This bill eliminates the accommodation of usership patterns as a reason for prohibiting public access with respect to lands, or easements on lands, that are not acquired for a state trail or the ice age trail and that are acquired after the bill becomes law.

Under current law, if a land acquisition or development project under the stewardship program costs more than $750,000, DNR cannot obligate money from the stewardship fund for that activity until DNR gives written notice of the proposed activity to JCF. JCF may schedule a meeting to review the proposal only if at least five members of JCF, one of whom is a cochairperson, object in writing to the proposed activity. If the cochairpersons of JCF do not notify DNR within 14 working days after the date of DNR's notification that JCF has scheduled a meeting to review the proposed activity, DNR can obligate the money. If the cochairpersons notify DNR that JCF has scheduled a meeting to review the proposed activity, DNR can obligate the money only if JCF approves the proposed activity or if JCF fails to hold the meeting within a specific number of working days. This bill decreases the $750,000 threshold amount to $250,000.

Under current law, land that DNR purchases is not subject to property taxes. Instead, DNR makes annual payments to municipalities for each parcel of land that the DNR has purchased in those municipalities. The payment amount is determined, generally, by multiplying the parcel's estimated value by the aggregate net general property tax rate that would apply to the parcel if it were subject to property taxes. This bill eliminates those payments for land purchased after the bill's effective date.

Under current law, if DNR receives funds from the sale of atlases, those funds are credited to an appropriation account in the conservation fund to be used for expenses associated with the maintenance of facilities and the production of maps and other customer services. This bill repeals that appropriation.

Current law also provides that, if DNR receives gifts and contributions under the Wisconsin natural areas heritage program or moneys from the sale of certain state-owned lands, those amounts are credited to an appropriation account in the general fund to be used for natural heritage and natural area land acquisition activities and for administration of the natural areas inventory program. This bill repeals that appropriation and provides instead that the amounts be credited to an appropriation account in the conservation fund and used for the same purposes specified in the repealed appropriation.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
